DESCRIPTION

Auld & White was retained by JM Family Enterprises to complete a new two-story office building for its support staff on its West Lake campus. The building includes open office areas, collaborative spaces, conference rooms, private offices, cloud hanging ceilings, an open staircase and wood railings. When JM Family Enterprises set out to build their new Support Services building, they wanted it to have a contemporary feel, an inviting atmosphere, LEED certification and match the overall campus theme of white utility brick and “Toyota Red” metal panels. The Support Services Building was the final of three buildings along the main entrance.
